MOBILIZATION ORDER OF DAY THRU EUROPE

British Fleet and the French, Belgian Armies Gather

BULLETIN
Asch, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Czechoslovak border patrols and Sudeten fighters fought at the frontier near Muebach this morning.
The Sudetens tried to cross the border into Germany. Czechs chased, captured and took them back into Czechoslovakia.
The Czechs fired rifles, witnesses related. The Sudeten volunteer troops replied. No one apparently was injured.

BULLETIN
Brussels, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Belgian government today called to the colors an unspecified number of specialized reserves and one reserve artillery regiment.
Regular soldiers and officers on leave were recalled, it was learned, and frontier units were reinforced.
These steps became known after the cabinet in a two-hour meeting reviewed the country's security measures and surveyed the international situation.

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Britain sent her largest fleet in 15 years into northern waters today as Prime Minister Chamberlain returned from his peace talks with Adolf Hitler, declaring that upon peaceful solution of the Czechoslovak problem "turns the peace of Europe in our time."

Some 40 ships of the British home fleet put to sea suddenly from Invergordon, as France ordered 300,000 more men to join her 2,000,000 already under arms. During the night and today two flotillas of destroyers joined the home fleet, which stretched for more than eight miles as it sailed away.

Chamberlain, returning from Godesberg at 1:14 P. M. (6:14 A. M. C. S. T.), had given Czechoslovakia what was described as Hitler's "final offer" for peaceful solution of the crisis.

To "Attend Games"
Looking fit despite the strain of recent weeks, including two airplane flights to see Hitler, the premier told the crowd at Heston airport that he must report first to the British and French governments, and that until then "it will be difficult for me to say anything about it."

He sped to Downing street with foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, to meet his close advisers and later to see the entire cabinet.

As the prime minister entered 10 Downing street, his wife kissed and embraced him.
The British fleet which joined so suddenly in the precautionary preparations of all Europe, officers said, had arranged to attend Scots Highland games at Invergordon today.

FRENCH PREPARE
Paris, Sept. 24.—(AP)—France today mobilized the vital covering troops that protect the country during general mobilization.

Evacuation of towns along the German frontier began.
Two full classes of reservists, numbering 300,000 men, were called to the colors in the partial mobilization, pushing the total of France's men under arms well over the 2,000,000 mark.

Although a report circulated that Premier Daladier would fly to London to confer with Prime Minister Chamberlain, Foreign Minister Bonnet said this afternoon that an invitation for such a trip had not yet been received.

At the German frontier, authorities first ordered evacuation of the 1,200 citizens of Bouzonville, five miles from the Saarland-German frontier.

Extend Maginot Line
The town was being turned over to the army as a base for one extension of the Maginot line.

During the morning, United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt conferred with Foreign Minister Bonnet.

The reservists called today went to the army and to the air force. The navy already had its quota of 20,000 which were called out by individual orders.

Licenses; Masks
London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Registrar offices were deluged today with a rush of couples getting married "before the war breaks out."
At the Caxton Hall office were two long lines—one to the marriage license window, the other to the gas mask fitting depot.
Some couples went directly from being married to be fitted for gas masks.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR TEACHERS IN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

First Session Will Be Held Monday Eve at St. Paul's Church

The second annual community leadership training school for officers and teachers of the church schools of Dixon and vicinity will open Monday evening at 7:30 for the first of a series of four meetings to be held in St. Paul's Lutheran church. The purpose of the school is to assist Sunday school teachers and officers to improve the work of their Sunday schools. There will be no charge for admission and a cordial welcome is extended to all who desire to attend. A special invitation is extended to young people who wish to prepare themselves for positions of responsibility in their churches.

The text book for the course will be "How Would Jesus Teach?" by David R. Piper. The plan of procedure will be to study one fourth of this book each of the four evenings. Members will find it helpful to own their own copies for home study and preparation. Following the period given over to the study of the text, the school will divide into five discussion groups for discussion of the problems relating to the various departments of the church school.

Eighty-six persons were enrolled last year and an even larger number is expected this year. The school is sponsored by the Dixon Ministerial Association. The committee on arrangements has been the Rev. James A. Barnett, Dr. L. W. Walter and the Rev. Herbert J. Doran. The complete program is as follows and those planning to attend are advised to clip it for future reference:

School Program.
Sept. 26:
7:30 P. M.—Devotional period, Rev. Paul D. Gordon, leader.
7:40 P. M.—Study of Book "How Would Jesus Teach?" Chaps. I-III, Rev. G. D. Neilsen, teacher.
8:10 P. M.—Discussion groups. (See below.)
9:00 P. M.—Social hour, Lutheran Sunday school, hosts.
9:15—Adjournment.
October 3:
7:30 P. M.—Devotional period, Rev. B. Norman Burke, leader.
7:40 P. M.—Study of book, "How Would Jesus Teach?" Chaps. IV-VI, Rev. W. E. Thompson, teacher.
8:10 P. M.—Discussion groups.
9:00 P. M.—Social hour, Christian Sunday school, hosts.
October 10:
7:30 P. M.—Devotional period, Rev. Dave W. Rawls, leader.
7:40 P. M.—Study of book, "How Would Jesus Teach?" Chaps. VII-VIII, Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, teacher.
8:10 P. M.—Discussion groups.
9:00 P. M.—Social hour, Presbyterian church, hosts.

Big Buddy Club Headquarters, in Need of More Equipment, Appeals

The Big Buddy club, located in the old Truman school, is now a going concern with 49 boys between the ages of 8 and 16, inclusive, registered as members. Only boys living west of Lincoln avenue are being accepted for membership now because of the limited facilities. It is hoped to increase this area as rapidly as possible.

A telephone has been installed and the number is R-935.

Dixon people are now called upon to help this splendid movement, sponsored by the Dixon post of the American Legion.

Among the donations that are needed at this time are:

Floor lamps, various sizes of plain and game tables, games, books, magazines, cartoon books,

TEN DRUM CORPS TO PARTICIPATE IN FALL PARADE

Competitive Drills to be Feature of Thursday Eve Program

Ten drum and bugle corps will participate in the parade to be held Thursday night as part of the city's annual fall festival and corn show.

The parade is scheduled to start at 7:30 and corps which will take part are: Sycamore, Rochelle, Oregon, Dixon and LaSalle Sons of the American Legion, Rock Island American Legion, Dixon Junior girls, Dixon Boy Scouts of troop 89, LaSalle Boy Scouts and the Moline American Legion.

The units will assemble at the high school athletic field and the parade will begin at the Peoria avenue bridge and move south on River street to Galena, south on Galena to Second, west on Second to Highland and north of Highland to First street.

For Cash Prizes
Immediately following the parade there will be 10-minute drills with the junior corps competing for the first prize of $60, second prize of $50 and third award of $40.

Judges for the event will be five members of the National champion 40 & 8 drum corps of Galva.

Legionnaire Clare Thompson, who is chairman of this parade and drills, has had much experience in drum corps work and was a member of the National champion drum, bugle and five corps of American Legion, Post 130, at Fort Dodge, Iowa, in 1926 and 1927. This corps headed the Legion parade in Paris, France, at the first Legion convention held "over there" in 1927.

Reject Bids For Removing Building At Bridge Approach

All bids for the removal of the city rest room building at the south approach to the Galena avenue bridge, were rejected at last night's regular weekly session of the city council. Mayor William Slothower stated that a Chicago contractor had submitted a new plan for moving the building to the parking space east of Galena avenue, as provided in the plans for the new bridge.

The regular monthly bills were ordered paid, totalling $11,738.39. Commissioner Joe E. Valle, who had been receiving treatment at a sanitarium near Ottawa and is greatly improved in health, attended the meeting after several weeks absence.

Complaint Is Filed Against Lee County Railroad Owner

Assistant State's Attorney Gerald Jones today filed in the Lee county circuit court a complaint against Abe Jeanblanc, owner of the Lee County Central Railroad, asking a writ enjoining Jeanblanc from raising the grade of the railroad above the grade established for the new bridge over Green river at Binghampton. The complaint, filed in behalf of the county, alleges that Jeanblanc began raising the grade of the railroad Friday, and immediate issuance of the injunction is asked. Arguments on the plea will be heard in Circuit court Monday.

New Experience
Odessa, Wash., Sept. 24.—(AP)—In all her 102 years, Mrs. Wilhelmina Gross never knew anything like it:
She sent her daughter, 80-year-old Mrs. Gottlieb Lobe, to the front porch to bring in the milk, but the front porch was not there.
Soon a motorist appeared, explained he'd crashed into the porch in the night and carried it away.

Terse News

LADIES' BOWLING.
The ladies' league for bowling will begin Monday night at 7:30 at Dixon Recreation.

LICENSED TO WED
George Curtis, Jr., and Miss Vivian Coakley, both of Dixon, were licensed to wed by County Clerk Sterling Schrock this morning.

TO TEACHERS' MEET.
Principal B. J. Frazer was called to Springfield late yesterday afternoon to attend a meeting of the legislative committee of the state education association. Mr. Frazer represents this district of the association.

STORM SEWER FILLED.
The city street department is encountering considerable difficulty in opening a storm sewer on Fourth street and Lincoln avenue, just north of the new Lincoln school. The storm water sewer for a distance of about two blocks has filled almost solidly with sand and dirt washed in during the long rainy spell during the summer months.

SCOUTS TO URBANA.
About 25 members of Rev. Scout troop, No. 89, headed by Scoutmaster Kenneth Abbott, left Dixon early this morning in autos for Champaign, where they participated in the annual Scout Day exercises at the stadium. The troop drum and bugle corps with Merle Lightner as drum major headed a procession of Scouts in the stadium preceding the football game, and were guests of the athletic department of the University of Illinois during the afternoon.

FARMER INJURED.
B. F. Yocum, employed on the C. R. Leake farm in Nachusa township, had a narrow escape from serious injury or death this morning, when, while driving a team hitched to a wagon, he fell from his seat between the horses and the vehicle, which passed over him, inflicting painful cuts and bruises on his head and body. He was treated at the office of a physician, and was able to return to his home.

ROUTED BY FLOOD.
According to a telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Merton Ransom of 508 Assembly Place, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Ransom, have been forced to flee from their home, located on the shore of the Connecticut river at Springfield, Mass., because of Wednesday's storm and flood in New England. Mr. Ransom, who is a former Dixonite, is employed as linotype and printing instructor for the Springfield newspapers.

Hopkins Discharges WPA Administrator

Los Angeles, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, announced as he left last night by airplane for storm-damaged New England that he had discharged Fred Healy, WPA administrator in New Mexico.

His telegram to Healy read: "Effective Sept. 24 your services as state administrator of the New Mexico WPA are hereby terminated because you have permitted local political interference with the WPA program, resulting in inefficiency and a failure to obtain the objective of the program."

RECORD ENROLLMENT
Bloomington, Ill.—(AP)—Students enrolled for the fall term at Illinois State Normal University numbered 1970. President R. W. Fairchild said it was the largest enrollment in the school's 82 years.

SECOND PAIR OF TWINS
DuQuoin, Ill.—(AP)—The second pair of twins, a boy and a girl, less than two years were born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Domenic of DuQuoin.

REPORT TERMS OF HITLER FOR SETTLEMENT

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's terms for peaceful settlement of the central European crisis were stated in official Czechoslovak circles today to call for revision of Czechoslovakia's frontiers without any German guarantee of the new borders unless Hungary and Poland also became guarantors.

This was interpreted by observers as strongly implying Hitler's support for the demands of Poland and Hungary for return of their minorities in Czechoslovakia. Czechoslovakia said Hitler's definite terms were:

1. German occupation before October 1 of all Sudeten areas, where more than 75 per cent of the population is German;
2. Evacuation of all Czechoslovak soldiers and civil servants from these areas by the same date.
3. A plebiscite in remaining Sudeten districts in which the inhabitants would vote on whether they wanted to go with Germany or remain in Czechoslovakia.

Hitler was said to have refused to join in any guarantee of the new Czechoslovak frontier unless Hungary and Poland also joined, thus in effect supporting their claims for recovery of their own minority areas.

The German memorandum conveying Hitler's terms was given "without comment" to Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister, by the British foreign office.

Czechoslovak quarters said the memorandum was being coded for Prague. They remarked bitterly that Czechoslovakia's strongest fortifications were located in areas Hitler demands.

Former Dixon Man Dies in Chicago

Eli Lloyd, former Dixon contractor, and a brother of Charles Lloyd, 1621 Fourth street, rural mail carrier, passed away in Chicago at 7 o'clock this morning. It was stated in a brief message received here today, which gave no details concerning the death or funeral arrangements. Many Dixonites will remember Mr. Lloyd, who has been engaged in the contractor-decorating business in Chicago since he left Dixon about 12 years ago.

EASTERN STATES TODAY BURY THE HURRICANE DEAD

Housing and Feeding of 12,000 Distressed is Immediate Problem

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Abating floods today gave the North Atlantic states time to bury their hurricane dead—nearly 500 in number—and begin the sorry task of rehabilitating areas struck by the worst storm disaster to befall the nation in a decade.

Authorities in the seven afflicted states and at Washington, D. C., mobilized every available resource of man and money.

Most pressing of the problems is mopping up after Wednesday's hurricane—a scimitar of wind and tide that cost half a billion dollars in property damage—was the housing and feeding of 12,000 distressed families in New York, New Jersey and New England.

Prompt emergency health measures by the Red Cross and other relief agencies apparently had ended the menace of the storm's grimmest aftermath—epidemic disease.

Scores Still Missing
Over the flood-besieged seven-state sector, an army of 100,000 WPA workers and thousands of army and National Guard troops and survivor volunteers—thoughtless of their own grief—poked through debris for the dead. Scores still were missing.

Red Cross officials expressed belief that many bodies, buried beneath tons of shifting sand, never would be found. The battering power of 30-foot tidal waves cut new inlets in many places along the coast, and ocean water flowed over wreckage thought to hold further dead.

Forecasts of generally fair weather accompanied the subsiding of flooded rivers in New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Danger Lessens

Danger also lessened at Hartford, Conn., the "insurance capital," as the roaring Connecticut apparently passed its crest. A tenth of the city was still under water, however, and 1,500 men labored to bolster a two-mile sandbag barricade protecting a thickly-populated tenement district.

Little Rhode Island remained the focal point of relief efforts. Extraordinary measures were taken to prevent pillaging of stores and looting of the dead. Flooded Providence, Woonsocket and Westerly, where more than 100 died, were under martial law.

The WPA dispatched 5,000 workers for rescue duty in answer to an appeal of Gov. Quinn, who estimated damage in the state at $100,000,000. To keep away speculators, police roped off sections of the devastated 14-mile shoreline between Watch Hill and Charleston Beach.

Detective Kills Self In New York Hotel

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Ervin J. Smith, 50, president of the International Secret Service association, a world-wide private detective agency, shot himself to death in his hotel room yesterday police said.

They said his son, Ervin, Jr., who found the body, told them his father had been worried over financial affairs.

Smith, one of the nation's best-known detectives, was a special bodyguard to President Theodore Roosevelt during the 1912 campaign.

Boy's Sales Trip Ends in Dixon But He Sells VanBibber, Mahan

Mrs. Catherine Winters of Clarendon Hills, near Chicago, came to Dixon on a strange mission last night about a half hour after midnight.

Mrs. Winters is the aunt of Robert Moore, 12, who thought he could sell toilet goods to pay his expenses on a cross-country tramp from his aunt's home to Omaha, Neb.

The boy received a consignment of salve and sachet powder from a mail order house yesterday and started on his "sales" trip to Nebraska where his mother, Mrs. Viola Moore, is employed. He left his aunt's home, where he had been living, about 3:30 in the afternoon and arrived in Dixon in the early evening.

Mystery Solved
Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Leonard Riley knows now how 105 of his bullets disappeared mysteriously during the past five weeks.

A youth loitering near the chicken yard fence was frightened away by Riley's neighbor.

The intruder left behind a 16-foot pole, a 22-foot line, and a hook baited with a kernel of corn.

CHICAGO PLAN FOR SUBWAY GIVEN SANCTION

Washington, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A special committee of five experts for the proposed Chicago subway approved the project in a report to PWA's Administrator Ickes today.

The committee, headed by Colonel Henry M. Waite, also submitted an alternate plan.

In approving the $32,000,000 subway, the committee suggested an extensive revision of plans submitted originally by the city. Essentially, it recommended the subway be constructed by underground tunneling instead of by open excavation. This, officials said, would permit construction without interrupting business on State street.

The committee also suggested the subway be extended several miles further north and west than provided in the original plans. It recommended that the entire subway be rapid transit and said the proposed trolley car tunnel should be eliminated.

These revisions, the committee said, could be made and still keep the project within the construction cost of $32,000,000. The commission's alternate plan called for an expenditure of $37,010,000 and suggested further extensions.

Ickes received the report without comment and instructed that it be submitted immediately to the city.

CHICAGO BABY IS ABANDONED IN TAXI-CAB

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A chubby, 24-day-old baby boy wriggled and gurgled happily in a crib at St. Vincent's hospital today while police searched for the mother who abandoned him in a taxi cab.

John De Piano, driver of the cab, told police a young, attractive woman engaged him yesterday to drive her first to an orphanage and then to the Lutheran Deaconess hospital. After visiting these places she directed him to the Northwestern railroad station "to check a bag."

When she failed to return in a half an hour, De Piano took the child to St. Vincent's.

Sister Superior Magdalene Klippen of Lutheran Deaconess hospital told police the young woman had identified herself as Mrs. Edna Miller of Rockford. She said she had come to Chicago in search of work, that her husband was ill and that she had found herself hampered by the baby. She wished the hospital to care for her son. The sister gave the mother some money and asked her to return to Rockford and find a temporary home for the child.

Pinned to the tot's clothing was a note which read, "Born September 1, 1938."

CRUSHED TO DEATH

O'Fallon, Ill.—(AP)—Floyd Drysdale, 30, of Swansea, Ill., was crushed to death by a portion of the roof which fell at the Perry coal company's mine near here yesterday. James Southers, 40, of O'Fallon, was injured seriously.

Boy's Sales Trip Ends in Dixon But He Sells VanBibber, Mahan

The boy stopped at the Hayden station on Peoria avenue and Everett and there heard his name mentioned in a state police radio broadcast from the Sterling headquarters.

The station attendant notified Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber and the chief and Officer Jess McIntyre took the boy to the police station from where Mrs. Winters was notified.

Robert started to cry when told he would not be able to continue to his mother. His sales trip wasn't a complete failure, however, when he succeeded in selling some salve to the chief and State Police Officer Edward Mahan.

LATEST NEWS FROM 'FRONT' NOT ASSURING

Preparations For War Reported in All Countries

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Europe stood today on the brink of war.

The end of peace talks between Reichsfuehrer Hitler and British Prime Minister Chamberlain signalled the most intensive war preparations since 1914.

France called 300,000 reservists to the colors—the last step before general mobilization. Evacuation of border towns along the German frontier began. France had more than 2,000,000 men under arms.

The British home fleet suddenly put to sea from Invergordon, Scotland, Malta, Britain's naval base in the Mediterranean, was put on a war-time basis. All arms of Britain's defenses were put in readiness.

Czechoslovakia mobilized an army estimated at 1,500,000 men against the danger of German invasion.

Chamberlain flew home to London from Godesberg after a final, fateful talk with Hitler.

Reported Last Offer
He had agreed to place a German memorandum before the Czechoslovak government. It was semi-officially reported that the memorandum, whose nature was kept secret, already had been relayed.

It was said positively to be Hitler's last offer. If the Czechs agree, it was said, peace would be preserved; if not, Czechoslovakia would bear the responsibility for the consequences.

In the meantime, Premier Mussolini of Italy declared that Germany had issued an ultimatum to Czechoslovakia expiring October 1—six days.

"During the next few days there is grave responsibility upon everyone concerned to consider very carefully the issues that are at stake," the wary, care-worn Chamberlain declared.

"We must still make great efforts to save the peace of Europe." In London, where Chamberlain had called an emergency session of the cabinet and was to see Premier Edouard Daladier of France, Hitler's final demands were said to include immediate demobilization of the Czechoslovak army and occupation of Sudetenland by either Sudeten or German troops.

Doubt Capitulation
There was no mention of British support for these demands.

And it was doubted whether the new Czechoslovak government, under soldier premier General Jan Syrový, was in any mood to capitulate to any demands by either Chamberlain or Hitler.

Fighting between Czechoslovak patrols and Sudeten German fighters broke out in Sudetenland near the German frontier. Railroad traffic between Germany and Czechoslovakia through that region halted.

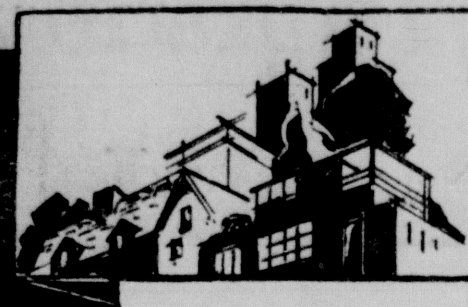

DNB (German official news agency) reports in Berlin said Sudeten Germans had arrested 600 Czechoslovaks and held them as hostages, to be killed if Czechoslovak artillery bombarded Sudetenland towns. DNB also said a truckload of Czechoslovak army engineers had been arrested with dynamite with which they were to have exploded bridges on the German side of the border.

Frontier Wall of Wire
French mobilization pushed the nation's men under arms to considerably more than the 2,000,000 mark.

Dispatches from Budapest said dawn lighted what appeared to be a solid wall of barbed wire, steel and concrete on the entire Czechoslovak-Hungarian frontier. All highway and telephone communications between the countries were discontinued.

Prague, a fear-gripped city, was under war-time tension. All trains were reserved for assembling soldiers. Motor vehicles were conscripted. Air-raid precautions darkened the city. Large red crosses were painted on hospital roofs. Trenches were

Chapter 42
Kidnapped!

We lunched, which is to say that Dunning and I gulped down some mouthfuls of food while Hugo sat, refusing everything. Then Dunning suggested inquiring at the various gas stations on the roads out of town, to hear if they had seen the yellow car pass, and though it was a forlorn hope, any action was better than nothing, so for a couple of hours we scoured the dusty countryside, all to no purpose. The Esterels were still burning bravely, but for the moment such a small event as a conflagration held no interest for me and finally, just as dusk was falling, we pulled up again on the main square.

Across the crowded promenade pulling up outside the Grand Hotel, was a shabby Renault with dark thick upon it. A stocky, middle-sized man descended from it and started to climb the steps of the hotel, but before he had reached the door, I was across the promenade and gripping him by the shoulder.

"Fleuriot!" I said. "You're a sight for sore eyes!"

He swung round and his face lighted at sight of me. "Tien," he answered warmly. There is a small matter of a wager connected with the word 'Amourie.' You were right, my friend," he added, tapping me in a friendly way on the shoulder, "but I could wish you had been a trifle more explicit, for you see, when I got there, he had been down."

I stared at him stupidly. "What morning he had left, for where do you think? For no less a place than the villa of a certain Monsieur Vladimir Rakovsky in Italy."

"And you believed her?" said Hugo hoarsely.

The other shrugged expressively. "I believed her, yes, for I had no reason to do otherwise, and her story was circumstantial. Also, I had other things to go on, as you shall hear. So to Monsieur Rakovsky I went, but when I arrived, it was to find I had been on what you call a wild-duck hunt. Our friend was not there—he never had been there, and Monsieur Rakovsky was a very indignant man at the mere suggestion that he might have been there! So back to Cannes I came, like the game-dog who has lost the game."

"Too bad!" I said mechanically, for there was something in his manner that told me he still had a surprise or two tucked away up his sleeve. "Look here, Fleuriot," I added, "this other evidence that convinced you you were on the right trail—what was it?"

"Ah!" said he, on a long-drawn sigh, and his eyes, sharply intelligent, searched each of our faces in turn. "It was such a little thing, a mere scrap of paper, lying concealed under the printing-press, and yet, to me, it said a great deal!" And with that he fumbled in his pocket and drew out a crumpled sheet of soiled paper, presenting it with a flourish for our inspection.

I took it, unfolding it dazedly, while Hugo and Dunning craned their heads over my shoulder to read, and there I saw, scrawled in red ink, the words: "They are taking me to Italy. Help! Ottile Wills!"

"We guessed it," I corrected him, "but we hadn't a shred of proof. Go on, man, go on!"

"Hiding in an attic under the eaves, I discovered a woman, a Negress, who said she was in charge of the house."

"Fatma," I said as he paused, and she flashed me a swift, prosopical look. "You see, you know all, Monsieur Lumsden. This Fatma I questioned, and she told me what I suspected. The chasseur had indeed sheltered there for two days, but that very

FIVE OR SIX ROOM HOUSE

But I think you will admit that ladies are not in the habit of carrying an assortment of lipsticks around with them. I happen to know that Miss Wills uses what I believe is known as carmine, whereas this letter, you will note, is printed with an orange stick.

Fleuriot rapped out an oath and sprang to his feet. "You are sure of this, Monsieur Stern?" he demanded sharply.

Hugo swung round on me. "Archie, you saw that negress the other night—what shade of lipstick would you say she used?"

I cast my mind back to that bizarre scene under the night sky. "Orange it was!" I admitted, and he gave a short, triumphant laugh.

"You see? It was the Negress who wrote this letter, and she wrote it under dictation with the sole object of making us believe that Ottile had been in Antibes and has been carried ever farther east into Italy." He broke off, studying our intent faces. "Gentlemen," he finished, "there's only one possible explanation for that maneuver—Ottile never was in Antibes, and if we want to find her, we must look, not east, but west."

Fleuriot struck his forehead. "West, that includes the whole of France!"

"Steady on, man!" said I. "That car of Geiss's should be easy to trace, and if Ottile's gone with him unwillingly he couldn't well shift her into a train."

"The car?" he echoed. "Imbecile that I am! If the car is on the road it shall be found!" And he ran like a two-year-old to the private telephone in the manager's office.

HOUSING SHORTAGE

Why should you plan to BUILD now?

The cost of building financing is at a low point in economic history. You can buy quality for less than you ever could. First cost will be reasonable, and maintenance over the period of ownership will be small.

Over the nation there is a housing shortage, and this shortage is becoming acute in many places. For the past ten years the building of new houses has been growing less and less, although our national expenditure for other necessities of life have been about the same as usual. It is estimated that there are 400,000 houses needed currently, and with the passing of each coming year there will be a further deficit of a million a year.

This shortage is causing rents to go higher, and this brings people to the conviction that home ownership is desirable. With an upturn in the building industry for private construction, it is inevitable that prices will rise and they may go higher than in 1937 so we conclude that NOW IS THE TIME TO BUILD.

There are other reasons for building that are not concerned with higher costs. The first is that interest rates on borrowed money are less than they were. Banks in great numbers are lending up to the limit of the percentage allowed by the FHA insured mortgage system.

Another important reason for building NOW is that today you can buy more quality for your dollars. Today's house is better built, is better as to style, and arrangement of plan; it may be run more efficiently and it is more comfortable and attractive than any houses of past generations.

The trend of government spending for mass housing projects is growing, and if there is a demand for the different building appliances and materials for mass production of housing, prices will be stabilized at a higher figure or on an expanding scale, and so NOW IS THE TIME TO BUILD before the increasing demand causes prices to rise higher than they are today.

STAIRS

In planning a stair landing, it is best to have at least three risers below the landing. One riser is not advisable, for one invariably feels there are more steps coming and thus often loses balance and falls.

It is also desirable to have the first tread of the steps wider than the other treads, and the risers about 7 1-2 inches high.

SMALL HOMES • STORES

APARTMENTS • MODERNIZATION

by PAUL T. HAAGEN AIA

LIVING ROOM GARDENS

There is a trend today away from the spacious front lawn, with the house set back as far on the lot as space would permit, and toward the utilizing of as much of the grounds as possible in a private garden at the rear and incorporated into the living room for views and vistas and beauty.

There must be some front lawn, of course, enough to form a suitable setting for the house as seen from the street. There should be a minimum of planting, limiting this to the foundation shrubs and well-chosen shade trees.

The front walk and entrance drive should be simple in design and of inconspicuous material. If there is room, it is nice to have a parking court where an extra car may stand without blocking the drive to the garage. This is important if there is not a separate service to the kitchen porch or door.

It is advisable to plan, when building, a service entrance, garage, coal chute or oil inlet, basement door near the kitchen door so that all service may be conveniently located for use. If laundering is done in the house, a drying yard is a necessity; and even if this is not the case, there should be some place where a line may be put up for occasional use of airing household fabrics, etc.

As much space as possible should be left for the main garden at the side or rear of the property where flowers and shrubs should be arranged for picture effect and become an outdoor living room.

Usually the first consideration for such a garden is an enclosing hedge or shrub border, in addition to a fence or wall, perhaps. This assures privacy, intimacy and a certain exclusion of any undesirable views.

Next should be devised the means of getting about the garden, by the placing of paths or open areas where grass is grown and permitting passage to the masses of bloom, or to an occasional seat or lawn-chair. Such paths should develop on an axis taken from some feature of the house—usually the doorway from the living room or porch through which one enters the garden.

HOUSE SERVICE

Do you know where the connections to the outside are made for your telephone line, your gas, light and water?

If you don't know, it is wise to find out. When going away for the winter and the water and other utilities must be turned off, you can point out the connection to the public service man who comes to do this little job. He may be a new employee and have no idea where to look for the connection, and then when you come back and are anxious to have the service restored, you can then advise in a jiffy where to look and do this work.

SHELF

If there is a desire to do away with the bedside table between twin beds, or at the side of a double-bed, a happy solution of the place to put the clock, the lamp, the books which you like to have for reading in bed, is to build a shelf above the head, putting it on the wall at the head. Or, if the bedroom is small and the bed is placed parallel against the wall, the shelf may run the length of the bed.

Be sure the shelf is high enough that the tallest person sitting up in bed will not bump his head. It will still be within easy reach for any article on the shelf.

CORD HANDRAIL

In the absence of a handrail on the stairs, a stout, silken cord or a strap of velvet, tasseled at the ends and supported by iron rings set in the wall, may be substituted. Particularly appropriate to Spanish or Mediterranean houses.

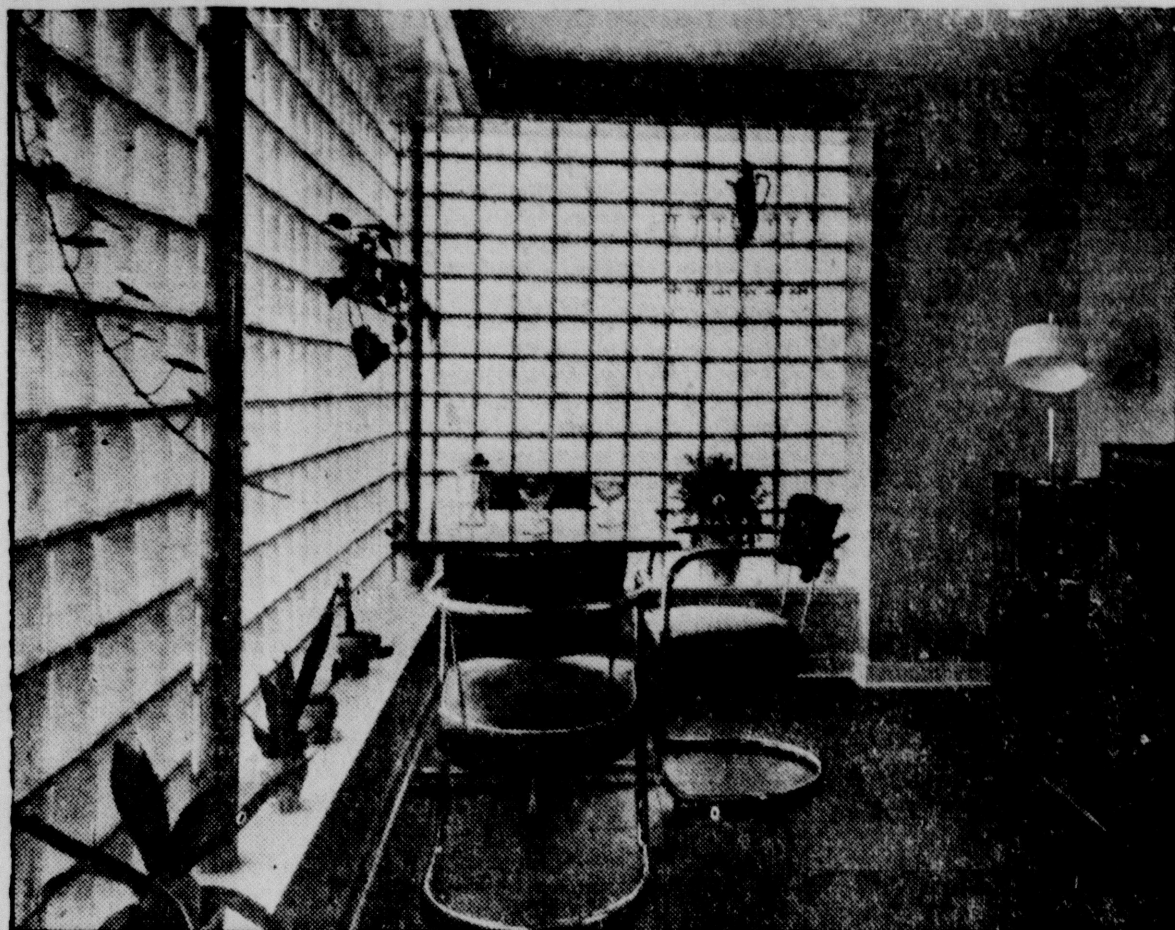

CARPET PADS

No matter how thick the pile of your rugs or carpets may be, it is always wise to use a reasonably thick base pad underneath for the sake of the longevity of the rug.

Such a pad will make a thin rug much more luxurious and rich in its feeling underfoot, and will add life to any rug.

There are 299 slaughtering plants in the United States operating under federal inspection.

GLASS MASONRY

To obtain more light without sacrifice of privacy for this nook, just off the living room, the designer utilized translucent masonry of glass brick. Such hollow bricks, due to their vacuum construction, assist in temperature control and greatly reduce sound transmission. Notice the glass shelves built into the joints between the glass bricks. SEASON'S FIRST CRANBERRIES ON LOCAL MARKETS

Endive, Fresh Mushrooms and Brussels Sprouts Among New Foods

Local markets were filled with an array of crisp vegetables and choice fruits this morning. Everything seasonable was on hand and, according to old standards, many of the foods offered were unseasonable.

The first cranberries of the year were on sale and at the usual price. A shortage in the cranberry crop has been reported, but it probably will not affect northern Illinois, as the Wisconsin crop is above the average and that is our source of supply.

Eggplant of all sizes, with its purple bloom, made an attractive variation from the green vegetables. Many persons stuff them and serve them whole. Even if you are not specially fond of eggplant it should not be forgotten when it comes to making an attractive table decoration, as it is most effective.

Endive, that welcome substitute for lettuce with many persons, is shown in many of the food stores, although there is an abundance of head lettuce on hand.

Brussels sprouts are back again, and cauliflower, a near relative, never looked firmer and whiter. Crisp red radishes, lima, wax and green beans, Michigan celery, broccoli, (that has been off the boards for some time), sweet potatoes, so popular when served with ham, are some of the new things that appear with the advent of autumn.

Boxes of pure white mushrooms were shown in quantity in one of the local stores and will be cordially greeted, as they are used in so many dishes or served by themselves either on toast or saute as an accompaniment to meat.

Hubbard squash is among the new vegetables. There are a number of ways of serving this, either steamed, baked or made into "pumpkin" pie. Acorn squash keeps up its popularity until the end and many persons serve it baked whole.

Fine tomatoes for slicing, or the smaller ones for canning, are still to be had. Cucumbers for pickling and red and green peppers for spicing are in demand. Spanish onions are not to be overlooked for a Dutch lunch or mid-night supper.

Concord Grapes Scarce. Those who always count on using Concord grapes for preserves, butters and jellies are doomed to disappointment this year, as the crop is very scant.

There are almost none to be had from local growers, and those in Chicago are furnished by Michigan and are not up to the usual standard. Many of the vineyards were injured by frost in the early spring and the continual rains have not added to their perfection.

The delicious Ribier grapes—the large black ones—were seen in several of the grocery stores this morning, as were the Tokays and seedless white grapes. Bartlett pears, Italian prunes, some select peaches, limes, Valencia oranges are still in market, but the day of the blue plum is almost over.

Apples take their place in the front these September days and will hold it until spring. Those offered by Dixon merchants are the Wealthy, a splendid cooking apple, and the Delicious, McIntosh, Snow and Jonathan, which are leaders for eating. Good apples are high, as they have had difficult weather to contend with. There are practically no local apples, the crop having suffered much the same fate as did grapes.

Avocados are back again and will take their place as the leader for salads. Fresh dates and the first black Mission and Calimyrna figs have been received.

Fresh coconuts are awaiting those who wish a specially delicious cake.

CHILD ENDS HER SIXTH MONTH OF UNCONSCIOUSNESS

Chicago, Sept. 24—(AP)—Golden-haired Mary Ellen Reardon ended her sixth month in a sleep-coma today.

Mary Ellen drifted into the coma March 25 after an attack of the measles. Doctors diagnosed her illness as sleeping sickness.

For many weeks her eyes remained closed all the time. She was unable to take food and had to be fed by tube. Then, slowly, she improved to the point where she could take orange juice, milk, soft cereals and strained vegetables from a spoon.

Later she opened her eyes during the daytime. But they were unseeing eyes. They didn't follow her mother's moving hand. They didn't recognize her favorite doll, whose hair nearly matched her own. She did not respond when spoken to.

"I know that she will get better," said Mary Ellen's mother today.

In a prelude to her expression of faith, Mrs. Reardon said, sadly, "doctors have told us that Mary Ellen can not recover. They say that her mind has been impaired."

"But, I think she has improved. While she didn't seem able to see anything at first, she now will occasionally notice an object waved in front of her."

Mary Ellen's father, Daniel, added that while she was unable to move a muscle for many weeks she now can move her arms, legs and head slightly.

The child looks healthy. She has gained about three pounds since March. Her cheeks have a faint rosy glow.

Asleep or awake, her mother promised today, she'll have a birthday cake on October 17, when she'll be three years old.

DEDICATION OF ST. MARY'S FLAG POLE TOMORROW

Dedication of the St. Mary's school memorial flag pole, presented the school by Horace V. Ort post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will take place tomorrow at 2:30 P. M., following the annual parish dinner. The dinner will be served in St. Mary's hall, beginning at 11:30 A. M.

The following program will be conducted on the school lawn in conjunction with the dedication of the flag pole: opening remarks, Commander Clarence Welker; invocation, the Rev. Fr. L. Guzzardo; song, "America"; placing of memorial wreaths at the base of the pole by representatives of the Woman's Relief corps, Daughters of Union Veterans, Ladies of the G. A. R., Spanish War veterans and American Legion; presentation of colors, post colors by V. F. W. auxiliary and storm flag by American War Mothers.

Dixon's only civil war veteran, John Ford, will raise the colors. After the dedication, officials of the patriotic organizations formally will present the flag and pole to the school. The Rev. Fr. Walsh will make a short address of acceptance. Welker has secured a guest speaker for the occasion.

In conclusion the flag will be lowered to half mast in memory of all veterans and a bugler will sound taps. The ceremonies will be open to the public.

PHASES OF NOISE NUISANCE

Campaign against the noise nuisance go on, making only a little progress here and there, but the progress is such as to show that it is possible. The principal element of failure is in the fact that persons who suffer most feel that there is no place to go with their complaints, that they are just one person in a thousand and will not be heard.

Two phases of the noise nuisance common to almost every neighborhood are emphasized in protests written to the Washington Post by Washingtonians. One relates to the automobile horn, both from the standpoint of the manufacturer and the person who makes himself a public nuisance by the use of the horn. The protest says:

"Can't something be done about these loud automobile horns which are shattering the nerves of thousands of people? (I have often wondered why the manufacturers have not been murdered before now.)

"The sensation experienced by most persons having a loud horn blown near them unexpectedly is similar to that experienced by anyone being slapped firmly in the face with the open palm. The horn-blowing morons do not seem to realize this.

"I am a poor wight unfortunate enough to have to live in Washington and, adding to this misfortune, I have to drive around in Washington's traffic horror. I have a horn on my car (not a loud one) yet I doubt whether I blow it an average of once each month.

"Murder has always been against my conscience, so I can not shoot these people who are so inconsiderate as to put thousands into hospitals due to nervous troubles resulting from this loud horn blowing. I am a dumb cluck who can only string sentences together and who can't do anything about it. Can't some of you men of action do something about it? Some of you men of action might persuade the police to jail some of these horn blowers on charges of disorderly conduct. (Unfortunately, unnecessary horn blowing is not a capital offense.)"

The dog nuisance comes in for protest from a nurse. It seems that when somebody wrote a protest about dogs, some dog owners came in with the usual defense of the dog as a pet and man's best friend and all the items with which we are familiar. Some of these people fail to realize that it is not the dog who draws the protest so much as it is the dog's owner. As a matter of fact the dog owners have it within their own hands to make the dog loved or hated abroad, according to their own conduct.

Undoubtedly this nurse speaks literally for millions of persons, who are harried by barking dogs, when she says:

"Your contributors who stress pro-love and anti-love of dogs miss the meaning of the writers who started the discussion. Love or non-love of dogs is not involved. It is nuisance or non-nuisance.

"I am a registered nurse and give my time and mind to sick and often fretful patients in our hospital for a stretch of twelve unbroken hours. When night comes, I am often worn to the last expenditure of energy. But next door to my room, directly under my window, are a lot of crying, whining, yelping puppies, with mother dogs and other dogs punctuating the chorus of their progeny by incessant barking at every noise in the alley. Just across the alley is a baying dog of huge dimensions whose monotonous bark is as nerve-racking as it is meaningless. This dog chorus keeps up its sleep-destroying work until far into the night, and then, in the early hours of the morning, when tired nerves need a final relaxation in sleep, the double dog sounds begin in their fury.

"I protest not against dogs, but against dogs that are thus a nuisance, not to say an annoyance, to people who must suffer as I must suffer, without help from law or the pleas of reason, for we have tried both.

"I ask only that dog owners be as considerate of the people who live in the neighborhood where dogs are kept, as they are of the dear dogs which they seem to prize so highly."

OBJECTION OVERRULED

Comes news from Spain which should make a lot of people feel a lot more comfortable and happy.

An American correspondent has been talking with an American plastic surgeon working at the front, and has seen some of the surgeon's best handiwork. The correspondent reports that the tidying up of blasted faces is now a really remarkable success. He sends along this encouraging sidelight on the surgeon:

"His theory is that many soldiers may be more afraid of disfigurement than they are of death, and they might go to war with a great deal more courage if they knew modern surgery could give them a fairly good new face . . ."

Why, of course! You see, boys, it's really just a matter of a temporary inconvenience, and possibly just a wee bit of lop-sidedness above the collar. And all the time you thought it might be something serious! You see now that your elders are taking care of everything for you, making the world a better place to live in, and all you've got to do is trust them and get out there and blast away when they tell you.

What! You don't see? What have you been doing—reading books and newspapers again?

ONE SECOND

You may be a little tired by now of reading sermons on safety. Possibly you've got so that accident and traffic statistics don't give you much of a shock any more. Possibly they even bore you.

How about just one statistic today, though? This is an interesting one. You might even find it worth remembering on special occasions.

It's offered by two Yale University investigators who made a cross-country trip to determine the habits of drivers in passing other cars in the face of traffic approaching from the opposite direction.

Twenty per cent of the nation's motorists, the Yale men estimate, habitually allow themselves less than one second in which to pass one car without being struck by an approaching car.

Assume that you are not that one driver out of five. Still your chances of getting involved with that driver on the highway are one to five.

The odds in your favor aren't anywhere near big enough to justify putting much of your trust in the other man.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's Note: The Brass Ring, The Washington Merry-Go-Round's weekly award to outstanding people in the news, heretofore is bestowed upon Edward Benes, President of Czechoslovakia.)

WASHINGTON, fifteen years ago one of the Merry-Go-Round authors climbed a steep path leading to a castle once occupied by the Kings of Bohemia, and after traversing numerous passageways which threaded the castle like the corridors of a cave, came into the office of the Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia.

Edward Benes, the Foreign Minister, was a very plain-looking, modest little man with an engaging smile, forthright manner and a perfect command of the English language.

Speaking in that language, he waxed eloquent over the progress of Czechoslovakia, her relative prosperity, her true democracy, the friendly relations she enjoyed with her neighbors. He particularly mentioned Russia and the fact that Czechoslovakia had learned to get along with Russia at a time when the rest of Europe refused to recognize her existence.

Foreign Minister Benes, at that time, had a right to be proud of his Czechoslovakia. In a Europe sickened by economic chaos, Czechoslovakia stood out as a sane and prosperous state. Germany was in the throes of disastrous current inflation, France was existing largely from German reparations payments, Poland was in turmoil, Austria on the verge of bankruptcy.

In this maelstrom only Czechoslovakia stood as independent, healthy, and a going concern. This week, still proud of his country, still proud of Czech enterprise and efficiency, Edward Benes, as President of Czechoslovakia, carried on his shoulders the final responsibility for deciding whether his country should surrender all that he had striven for.

With the exception of Adolf Hitler, no other man in the world held such great power for general peace or war.

Benes' Background
The man who held this power is the son of a poor peasant family, the youngest of ten children. Born 54 years ago, he worked his way through school and first attained national fame as a soccer player at the University of Prague.

It was at the University that he met the man who was to be his greatest inspiration, and who, when he died, would leave behind him a legacy of thought and life, at last, such as the President of Czechoslovakia.

Benes studied philosophy under Professor Masaryk at the University of Prague, later came back as a colleague of Masaryk to teach as a professor of sociology. It was from Masaryk that Benes first imbibed his ideas on Czech independence from Austria-Hungary, and when the World War came these two formed a secret national society to foster an independent state.

Their activities attracted suspicion, and they were forced to flee to Switzerland, where they continued even more effectively to work for restoration of ancient Bohemia.

Both were under sentence of death if they fell into Austro-German hands. But they continued their operations in London, Paris, and Petrograd. Benes, secretary for his country, became an expert in manufacturing the fake passports on which they traveled.

It was in Washington, however, that the Czechoslovak Republic finally was born. Masaryk came here with Benes in 1917, received encouragement from Woodrow Wilson, and then after a series of conferences with Czech and Slovak immigrants in Pittsburgh, Chicago and other cities, finally issued a proclamation of independence on behalf of the new republic.

This was the beginning of the country acknowledged to be the most worthwhile experiment in democracy spawned by the World War, the country which Hitler now seeks to swallow.

Champion of Peace
As Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia, Benes came to play a powerful and enlightened part in the council of Europe. He was one of the leaders of the League of Nations, was hailed as the consistent champion of the little nation against the bigger.

Benes is a serious-minded little man. He does not smoke or drink. He is more studious than social-minded. He is an absolute realist, never has underestimated the key position which his country has occupied in Europe's future. Not long ago he told a newspaper interviewer:

"The destiny of Europe will be decided here. This country is a natural and necessary point for European equilibrium. If this position is given up, all of Central Europe is gone."

Ethiopian Precedent
Realized though he is, it is doubtful if Benes realized the precedent he was helping to create when Italy swallowed Ethiopia three years ago.

At that time, the Ethiopian delegate, Teclé Hawariaté, appealed to the French and British for help. At first, however, they would not even let him submit the Ethiopian case to the League of Nations Council. For in the earlier stages of the Ethiopian dispute there was a tacit agreement between the French and British to let Mussolini put Ethiopia on the sacrificial block. Sacrifice of Ethiopia, they had agreed privately, would satisfy Italian ambitions in Africa and keep Mussolini busy, meanwhile leaving France and Britain free to follow their own course in Europe.

But Hawariaté refused to accept this. Rebuffed by Captain Anthony Eden and Premier Laval, he sought the help of lesser nations. Finally he came to Edward Benes, Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia and the champion of little nations. Hawariaté made

Sanitarium Owners Charged with Holding Patient Hostage

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The operators of a private sanitarium were ordered to appear in Superior court today to answer charges they had held a patient as hostage for unpaid treatment costs.

The charges were preferred in a petition filed yesterday by W. F. Behrens, a farmer of Carlinville, Ill., who said he had been refused permission to see his mother, Mrs. Jeanette F. Behrens, 65.

Defendants in the action were Robert Peele and his wife, Agnes, owners of two sanitariums in Palatine township. Behrens told Judge Francis B. Allegretti the Peeles had informed him he could not see his mother unless he paid $2,750 allegedly owed them.

Illinois Dept. of Health Offers Aid to Flooded States

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Governor Horner's offer of Illinois aid to five storm-stricken New England states was supplemented today by the state health department, which tendered the services of its sanitary engineers.

The offer was telegraphed by Dr. A. C. Baxter, acting state health director, to the governors of the states hardest hit by the recent storms and floods and to the Surgeon General of the United States.

Britain's motor industry provides employment for nearly one and a third million persons.

an eloquent plea. Benes listened carefully, then replied:

"It would be unwise for Ethiopia to upset the present work of the Council. There are larger European considerations involved."

Edward Benes probably did not realize, when he made that statement, that some day his government also would be put on the sacrificial block because of larger European considerations involved. (Copyright, 1938, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

WHEN OLD SOLDIERS MET—WAR WAS RESUMED

Dutch Flat, Calif.—(AP)—Here's one that won't go down in the list of happy reunions of veterans.

Game Warden Earl Hiscow, looking into Henry A. Schroeder's hunting credentials, got to talking about the World War. He discovered that they had been in machine gun companies pitted against each other—he with the A. E. F. and Schroeder with the Germans.

He also found that Schroeder had falsely represented himself as a citizen in getting a hunting license and had apparently been smuggled into this country in 1928.

Now Schroeder is serving a 50-day jail sentence and on his release must face deportation proceedings.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1f. One of the large accident insurance companies has made an extensive study of this point and they find the drivers with three years experience have far more accidents than those with only three months. Evidently the older drivers become careless—and this would indicate they should frequently be retrained.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. No two brothers or two sisters ever receive the same heredity and even if they were both put in cells and fed and taught and treated precisely alike they would still be different—not as different of course as if they had been given different environments because people differ partly because no two persons can have precisely the same environment. Furthermore, put two people in the same home and school or of-rice and each will choose different things in this common environment which will make him still more unlike the other.

3. Not in the ordinary run of human affairs, but there are occasions when a principle that is right under all ordinary circumstances not only works wrong results but itself becomes a wrong principle. For example, if you should meet a man whom you knew was on his way to commit murder and you thought you could stop him by telling a lie, you would be wrong not to tell him the lie. Or if a man is trying to kill you, the principle "Thou shalt not kill" instantly becomes wrong and it is right to kill him in self-defense. However, these exceptions occur hardly once in a hundred million, so, as a rule, right principles produce right results.

More Than Two-Hundred Guests Attend Flach-Hey Wedding at Amboy Church

The Rev. Frederick Brink, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church of Moline, read the wedding service at 8 o'clock last evening at the First Congregational church in Amboy, uniting Miss Philippa R. Flach, only daughter of the Paul S. Flach of Amboy, and Dean E. Hey, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hey of 604 South Peoria avenue. More than 200 guests from Cedar Rapids and Lisbon, Iowa; Chicago, Crystal Lake, Ransom, Dixon and nearby points witnessed the single ring ceremony.

There were baskets at the altar containing gladioli and asters. Ferns and white tapers in tall wrought iron standards, completed the background for the ceremony. Satin bows and tiny nosegays marked the pews.

Miss Jeanette Smith of Morrisville, Delta Omicron sorority sister of the bride, played the nuptial prelude, followed by the traditional "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bride party. Miss Smith also played the organ accompaniments for two vocal numbers, "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "Still as the Night," sung by Avon Cox of Lee Center.

Miss Marian Duffey of Crystal Lake was her cousin's bridesmaid, and Mrs. Earl W. Breyman of Rochelle, the bride's aunt, was maid of honor. James Hey served his brother as best man. Ushers included James Jenks and James Campbell of Dixon, Earl W. Breyman of Rochelle, and Elm Troch of Chicago, the bridegroom's fraternity brother.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her princess gown of ivory chiffon velvet was fashioned with a short train. Her blush veil and her three-quarter length veil were fastened to her hair with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Breyman chose fuchsia velvet and carried bronze pompons, and Miss Duffey was attired in sapphire blue velvet and carried yellow pompons. Both attendants wore leather ornaments in their hair to match their gowns. Mrs. Flach was wearing dark green crepe for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother wore black tulle. Their carriages were of pink roses and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Beulah Davis, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. John Liggett of Amboy presided at the refreshment table. Spun sugar roses and a miniature bride pair decorated the tiered wedding cake. Later in the evening, Mr. Hey and his bride left by motor on a wedding trip to the Ozark mountains. After Oct. 15 they will be at home in Sterling.

Mrs. Hey was graduated from Illinois Wesleyan university at Bloomington, where she was active in Delta Omicron music sorority. Afterward, she opened a piano studio at her home in Amboy.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Dixon high school, was graduated in 1934 from the University of Illinois, and is affiliated with Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is associated with the Hey Brothers' firm in Sterling.

ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Five members of Minnie Bell Rebekah lodge were in Polo on Thursday evening, attending a special meeting of the Polo lodge which was arranged in compliment to officers of District No. 8. Mrs. Carrie Kizer of this city, who is president of the district, and all of her co-officers except the vice president, were present.

Eighty or more members attended the meeting, held in the I. O. O. F. hall. Gifts of handkerchiefs were presented to the honor guests.

Others attending from Dixon besides Mrs. Kizer were Mrs. Mary Brown and Miss Gretha Haynes, past noble grands of the local lodge, Mrs. Elizabeth Beier, Mrs. Ray Shaver, and Mr. Kizer. The district officers will be special guests of the Morrison lodge on Oct. 13, and will be entertained by the local lodge, Oct. 14.

PRE-NUP TIAL PARTY

Mrs. Louis Brasky and Miss Dorothy Walter were co-hostesses at a variety shower Thursday evening, complimenting Miss Inez Roebuck, who is soon to become the bride of Haywood Meyers. More than 20 friends were invited to the Walter home on the East River road for the occasion.

Games were provided for the evening's diversion, prizes going to Mrs. Forrest LaMaster, Miss Irene Szabo, Miss Vera Szabo, and Miss Della Grygiel. Opening of the score favors was followed by presentation of the honoree's gift packages, and serving of refreshments.

Miss Roebuck, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan E. Roebuck, is employed by the Brown Shoe company. Her fiancé is employed by the Medusa Cement company.

MRS. HUGHES HAS BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. Dora Hughes was a party hostess of Thursday. She made luncheon reservations at a local tea room, with contract following at the home of Miss Lillian Tomlinson, 209 Madison avenue.

Rutherford-Hathaway Nuptials Performed at Rochelle Today

Miss Helen Elizabeth Rutherford, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Rutherford of Rochelle, and Charles S. Hathaway, also of Rochelle, pledged marriage vows at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Hathaway residence, 526 Seventh street, where the couple reside.

The Rev. James A. Campbell, pastor of the Presbyterian church, read the single ring ceremony in the presence of 22 guests. Dusty pink Bagdad gladioli decorated the rooms for the ceremony, which was preceded by a piano prelude of love songs played by Miss Marcella Connolly of Rochelle. The Wagner "Bridal Chorus" was the signal for the entrance of the bride party, and strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march were heard at the close of the nuptial service.

Miss Mary Florin of Rockford was bridesmaid, and Newman Hayes of Rochelle served as best man.

The bride was wearing a street-length frock of dregs of wine chiffon velvet with gold trim. Yellow roses formed her shoulder corsage. Miss Florin chose teal blue crepe, with a corsage of roses.

After an informal reception at the Hathaway home, the couple will be motoring southward toward Mexico City on a three weeks' wedding trip.

Mrs. Hathaway, a graduate of Rochelle high school, and Northern State Teachers' college in DeKalb, formerly taught for six years in rural schools. The bridegroom, also a graduate of Rochelle high school, later attended the University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

Personal Shower is Given for Miss Mary Clark, Soon to Wed

When Miss Theresa Wallin and Mrs. Foster Thompson entertained last evening at the former's home, 204 Monroe, in compliment to Miss Mary Clark, October bride-to-be, their refreshment tables were in pink, green, and white, and a personal shower awaited the honoree. Miss Clark is to wed Leo Miller early next month.

Games of bunco were played early in the evening. Prizes were awarded to Miss Clark and Miss Gertrude Wallin, and later, the guests wrote homemaking suggestions for the bride-elect. Afterward, Miss Clark was presented with a bouquet of tulips containing verses telling where to find her gift packages, which were concealed about the room.

Ice cream molded in the form of wedding bells was served with refreshments at the close of the evening. Honoring Miss Clark on this occasion were her sister, Mrs. Edward Beach, Mrs. Thomas Tyler, Mrs. Minnie Cable, Mrs. D. L. Montgomery, and the Misses Nova Kellar, Leota Rutt, Gertrude Wallin, and the hostesses.

GODFREY-NORDMAN NUP TIALS

Miss Louise Godfrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Godfrey, and Harrison Nordman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nordman, exchanged nuptial vows Saturday afternoon, Sept. 17, at Crescent City. The Rev. H. E. Bruns, former pastor of the Paynes Point Lutheran church, officiated.

Miss Margaret Godfrey, the bride's sister, and Robert Nordman, the bridegroom's brother, attended the couple. Parents of the bride pair were also present.

The bride wore a suit of robin's egg blue with duobonnet accessories. She has been complimented at a series of pre-nuptial showers, the hostesses including Mrs. Harold Godfrey of Chana.

Following a wedding dinner at the Crescent hotel, the couple left on a brief wedding trip. Afterward, Mr. Nordman and his bride will be at home with the bridegroom's parents on a farm at Paynes Point.

NELSON CLUB

Dr. W. A. McNichols will entertain members of the Nelson Community club with colored moving pictures of his trip to South America at Monday evening's meeting of the club. The program is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Cook school.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church held their annual meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors with a very good group in attendance. The program, which was especially planned for the occasion, was presided over by the president, Mrs. Will Ramey. A social period followed, and a delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. Louise Valentine was a Dixon caller on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Ferhelm, who have been living in a trailer in the village park, left on Tuesday of this week for Iowa.

C. J. Politich and August Schlesinger represented Paw Paw at the Farm Bureau meeting in Peoria on Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Jim Hill plans to move soon to her old home near Baltimore, and has rented her house in Paw Paw to Charles Buchanan and family.

WILLING WORKERS MEET
The Willing Workers Sunday school class of the Baptist church met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nimrod Bosten, near Rollo. Plans were discussed for the class' growth and activity, and following the business meeting lovely refreshments were served by Mrs. Bosten.

The local P. T. A. announces that the first meeting of the year will be on Monday evening at the school.

Mrs. Eliza Moore, Miss Lucy Moore, and George Moore attended the funeral of Frank Welsensel on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nangle sang two duets at the funeral of Frank Welsensel in Compton Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Everett Powers left Wednesday to attend the funeral of her nephew, Robert Whitman, at Humboldt, Iowa. Mr. Whitman was suddenly killed by accidental shooting while hunting.

Modern machine guns for planes are very little different in their design from those guns used during the World War. The number of shots has been speeded up from 650 to 1000 rounds per minute.

Private Circus is Located in Vacant Lot of Chicagoan

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The private circus purchased by Louis L. Meitus for his children's entertainment unloaded this morning on a vacant lot and promptly attracted a crowd of some three thousand youngsters living in the southwest side neighborhood.

Meitus bought the menagerie at Sheboygan, Wis., hiring six trainers and caretakers to handle the two elephants, nine monkeys, four dogs, one hyena, one leopard, three lions, one baboon, two deer, one tiger, five ponies and six horses.

Hay and other circus feed were brought from the stockyards, a few blocks southward.

Busy with the unloading, Meitus didn't have time to consider future plans for his circus animals or for his contracting business. The neighborhood children, promised free shows on future Sundays, came over at once.

Delay Inquest Into Handbook Slayings

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—An inquest into the killing of two men during the attempted robbery of a handbook Thursday was continued today by Deputy Coroner James J. Whalen until Sept. 30.

The delay was requested by Assistant State's Attorney Leslie Curtis pending the outcome of the condition of Lucille Summerfield, 18, who was wounded critically. Curtis asked also that police be given more time to complete their investigation.

The men slain in the gun battle between three robbers and a half dozen policemen were John Bozula, part owner of the handbook, and James Gilroy, one of the robbers. Another robber, two policemen and Miss Summerfield were wounded.

Tomorrow Will be Last Wet Sunday in Boone Co. Districts

Belvidere, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Tomorrow will be the last "wet" Sunday in Boone county, long a Sabbath oasis in northern Illinois. County supervisors issued the order that rural taverns keep their bars closed on Sunday. Incorporated municipalities have been dry for several years.

Sheriff Fred Smith announced special deputies would patrol the taverns on Sundays.

There are about 20,000 administrative officers in the American public school systems.

from Daladier's office indicated other troops were being called as well. It was said today's call was "concerned essentially" with the "two classes" ordered to duty.

At the same time Daladier announced requisition of trucks, automobiles, horses, etc., had begun in certain sections of the country.

CZECHS GATHER FORCES

Prague, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia mobilized itself and an army estimated at 1,500,000 today against the danger of German invasion.

Fears, excitement and war preparations gripped the 20-year-old republic as she made ready for defense "with every means at her disposal."

Six hours were given to bring the normal standing army of 180,000 to nearly 10 times that figure.

First-line reserves and some second-line reserves rushed to the colors. Military trucks rumbled, seemingly endlessly, through the crooked streets of this ancient capital.

All trains were reserved for the assembling soldiers. Excited enthusiasm burst forth as the nation sprang to arms upon announcement of the mobilization order. President Benes ordered the preparations after Jan Syrový, premier, army inspector-general and national hero, told his minister "the time has come for this public to defend herself."

Nation Electrified

The nation was electrified by this announcement, broadcast after the Czech anthem was played: "The most important and decisive moment has arrived."

"Success depends on all of you. Expend all your powers and your fortunes in defense of the state."

"Do all the state demands of you. Be calm and firm. Tolerate no prophet of gloom. Suppress fickleness. Our battle is just."

"It is just to battle for our freedom and independence. Free Czechoslovakia lives."

Millions of Czechoslovaks had awaited tensely for that statement and received it with an enthusiasm contrasting sharply with the dejection or anger they felt over former Premier Milan Hodza's decision to surrender to Adolf Hitler's demands on Sudeten German areas.

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON

Hundreds of Dixon fans followed their team to Rockford last night to see the game. It was impossible to check on everyone, but a few of the fans noticed were: Glenn Courtwright, Bert Cummings, Paul Potts, Lyle Myers, Bob Coakley, Al Boyd, Dick Boos, Zeke and Eddie Callahan, George Campbell, John and Jim Naylor, Bud Chiverton, Vic Potts, Earl Nolan, Benny Bremner, Brownie Emmert, Sr., Bob Krug, Bill Rusk, Toughy Miller, Ken Barnhart, Art Carlson, Bob Stitzel, Ralph and Eddie Nicklaus.

Mendota high scored its second non-conference victory of the season on their home grid last night when the grid-ders defeated Amboy 26 to 0. Mendota won from DePue a week ago, scoring on a safety. The feature of the game last night was an Amboy pass intercepted by Seno of Mendota who ran 50 yards for the touchdown. Dixon plays Mendota on Oct. 8 there.

Coach Roiston's Polo eleven defeated Mt. Carroll last night by a score of 7 to 0. The Dixon team scrimmaged with the LaSalle-Peru team in preparation for the "successful" event last night at Rockford. Holsinger made the touchdown.

The DeKalb heavies who will be the rivals of Dixon here later in the season, were defeated in a rallying in the fourth quarter by West Aurora last night, 18 to 6. DeKalb held the Big Seven conference team to a 6 to 6 tie until West high started to click in the last quarter.

The LaSalle-Peru scrappers defeated Ottawa last night by a score of 7 to 0. The Dixon team scrimmaged with the LaSalle-Peru team in preparation for the "successful" event last night at Rockford. Holsinger made the touchdown.

Belvidere high school's heavyweight football team won a hard-fought engagement from Crystal Lake last night, 6 to 0. Don Woods scored the only touchdown of the game on a pass play in the second quarter. The Belvidere lightweights won on a 19 to 0 score. Beck, Craig and Grady scored the touchdowns with Funderburg adding an extra point. About 1,500 persons saw the game played under lights at Belvidere. Dixon will invade Belvidere on Saturday, Oct. 15.

It was a perfect night for football at Rockford last night. A capacity crowd watched and cheered. Rockford's fine band did excellent maneuvering and tribute was paid to Coach Spurgeon who won his first victory with the Rabs. Spurgeon was captain of the Illini last season.

IOWA HAWKEYES TAKEN DOWN BY WESTERN SQUAD

University of California Defeats Big Ten Team By 27 to 3 Count

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Big Ten was one down in its 1938 intersectional gridiron warfare today but had a chance to regain prestige at Minneapolis.

Iowa's Hawkeyes made their season's debut last night by absorbing a 27 to 3 beating from the University of California at Los Angeles.

Today the Minnesota Gophers had the opportunity to square accounts between the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast conference in tackling the powerful Washington Huskies.

The Minnesota - Washington game drew attention from all of their opponents in their respective conferences as well as 50,000 fans who arranged to see the game.

The UCLA eleven outclassed the Hawkeyes after the Iowa eleven scored first on a field goal by Irvin Prasse. UCLA scored a touchdown in the second one in the third and two in the fourth periods.

Others Start Today. Illinois and Purdue were other Big Ten teams getting started today against non-conference opponents. The Illini entertained Ohio University while Purdue was host to Detroit University. Both Illinois and Purdue had a number of untried players in the lineup.

The other Big Ten squads squared off for intra-squad games or put plain practice. Coach Clark Shaughnessy went to St. Louis to scout Bradley Tech, the Maroons' first foe, in its game with St. Louis University last night. Bradley won 6 to 0.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher, bearing down on defense, tested the Wisconsin varsity against the freshman squad. At Ann Arbor, Michigan, went through another hard scrimmage. Indiana concentrated on passes for the intra-squad game and Ohio State's Buckeyes perfected passing and power plays for their coming tilt with Indiana.

A crowd of 10,000 was drawn to Northwestern University's Dyche stadium although only a varsity-fresh practice tilt was scheduled. The attraction for most of the fans, however, was Bill De Correvont, the sensational high school griddier who now is a Wildcat freshman.

Chicago Bears Win Over Negro Stars

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Chicago Bears, 1937 Western division champions in the National Professional Football League, trounced the Negro All Stars 10 to 0 in an exhibition game at Soldier Field last night, but may have lost the services of Lou Gordon, veteran tackle.

X-ray pictures today were to determine whether his right leg was fractured, when Don Simmons, former Iowa end, felled him with a block.

Officials—Referee, Gardner of Rochelle; umpire, Harrison of DeKalb; head linesman, McLean of Elgin.

Rockford won, but Dixon "triumphed."

An over-rated team from a town of 85,000 met an under-rated squad from a town of one-eighth that size last night and found it a tougher matter to handle than expected. Rockford came through to win 13 to 6, but that doesn't tell the whole story.

Before the game started Coach Lindell of the heavyweight squad remarked that it looked rather dark for the local lads and he was willing to settle for last year's score. (The Rabs won then 26 to 0.) Mr. Lindell should be pleased today. He isn't the only one from the Dixon staff to stick his thumbs in his suspenders and strut a little. Coach Marv Winger of the reserves gets a golden star after his name for the way his boys held the Rabs to a 0 to 0 affair.

In the main event, witnessed by a crowd close to 5,500, Dixon made 9 first downs to the same number by Rockford. Rockford attempted one pass which was completed from McEntee to Blewfield for a first down. Dixon attempted 8 passes and 4 were completed.

Rockford broke through for a touchdown in the last minutes of the first quarter when John Moore kicked on a third down from his own 45 yard mark to McEntee who took it on Rockford's 31 and returned it to the 41 yard line before he was down.

On the first play Reynolds of Rockford cut through guard and tackle for a first down to Dixon's 39 yard line. Louis Bevilacqua did the tackling. On the next play the ball went to McEntee who attempted to go through right guard but was smothered for no gain.

On second down and ten for Rockford on a reverse, McEntee to Stasica, was good for 3 yards before the tackle by Moore and Rinehart. On a run around left end McEntee carried the ball to the Dixon 27 yard mark for another first down.

To 13-Yard Line Reynolds on a break through center and left guard smashed through for another first down to Dixon's 13 yard stripe. On the first down McEntee was thrown for a loss of a half yard by Page and Rinehart. On the second play, a spinner, McEntee broke through center for 2 yards before being stopped by Rinehart. On the eleven yard mark Stasica on a reverse from McEntee took the ball around left end for the touchdown. Lindquist's kick for the extra point was good.

It didn't take the purple of Dixon long to recover from the shock and the locals came through from the kick-off to score early in the second quarter. After Rockford's touchdown Bevilacqua took Lindquist's kick on his own 20 yard mark and returned it to Dixon's 47 before he was down.

On the first play, Earl Page hit the center of the line for 3 yards to the half-way marker. Bevilacqua threw a completed pass to Youngmark on Rockford's 20 for a first down as the quarter ended.

From the Rockford 30 yard line Dixon made a straight march for the goal. On the first play Page cut back through left tackle for 5 yards. Bevilacqua picked up four yards through center to the 21 yard line and taking the ball again went over right tackle for three yards and a first down to the Rockford 18.

Pass incomplete

Richards, through left guard, picked up 3 yards. Bevilacqua pass intended for Page was incomplete and on third down with 7 to 9, Moore went through center for 4 more yards to the Rockford eleven. Page, through center and tackle made it a first down to the five yard mark.

Bevilacqua picked up 3 yards on the first down and on a spinner through right guard Richards collected only a half yard before he was brought down by Wallin and Cramer. On the third down Richards broke through left guard for the touchdown. Page's kick was no good and the score at the half was 6 to 7 in favor of the Rabs.

Rockford Wins

Early in the last quarter Rockford came through to win the game. Returning a punt, Moore made a quick kick on his own five and a half yard line. McEntee took the ball on Dixon's 36 and brought it back to the 30 before he was downed.

A pass from McEntee to Blewfield was complete for a first down to the Dixon 20 yard mark. McEntee picked up six more yards on a cut back through left tackle and Stasica went around right end for a first down on the one yard line. On the first play Stasica smashed the center of the line for no gain where he was tackled by Nicklaus. McEntee found a hole in the line through left tackle and went over for the touchdown. McEntee fumbled the ball on the attempted kick and the score was 13 to 6 where the end of the game found it.

After the Rockford scoring Dixon opened up a series of passing attempts but without profit. Bevilacqua did consistently fine work last night, aided by a strong line and a fast backfield. Stasica was outstanding in the Rockford lineup.

Rockford won, but Dixon "triumphed."

Dixon: Eastman, rg; Slothower, qb; Ashford, lb.

There's not much to tell in the pony affair between the reserves. Neither team made any serious threat on the other and it was straight defensive playing all the way. Both lines held well—and as the score (or lack of it) shows, both teams were well matched.

Rockford with a stronger force from which to draw failed to make a dent in the Dixon lightweights and for Dixon it becomes a moral victory—if there is such a thing. The Rabs made three first downs to five by Dixon.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press) Bucky Walters, Reds—Allowed seven hits over 12-inning route and singled to drive in winning run for 5-4 decision over Pirates. Bobby Feller and Ken Keltner, Indians—Feller allowed six hits, fanned ten in 8-1 opener win over Tigers; Keltner's double and single drove in four runs for 6-4 night cap victory.

Augie Galan and Rip Collins, Cubs—Galan's eighth inning homer beat Phils, 3-2 in opener; Collins' single and two doubles, one with bases loaded, sent four runs across in 7-6 nightcap edge.

PITTSBURGH IS NONE TOO SURE OF PENNANT WIN

Chicago Cubs Are Now Only Two Games Back Of the Leaders

By SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer.

So it can't happen here, eh? No club could ever do what the Pirates of '21 did—kick away a six-game lead in the closing days of a pennant fight? And no slugger, particularly a right-handed batsman, could come down the September stretch to equal Babe Ruth's 60-homer record of 1927?

The die-hards have been saying it for years, but now they're not so sure history won't repeat.

Remember those Pirates of 17 years back? That team was just about "in" with the pennant, then had the door slammed in its face. And remember the Babe in September '27. He waved that big wagon tongue for 17 homers in that 30-day stretch.

Well, there's more than an outside chance that the Pirates of today, particularly after that 12-inning beating they absorbed from Cincinnati's Reds yesterday, will put ditto marks in the record books. That defeat, coupled with the pair of decisions the second place Cubs took from the Phillies, sliced the Bucs' league lead to a "tremendous" two games, and, what's more important, left the Pirates with six games with the Reds and three with the Cubs still to play.

Hank Coming Through.

Then there's big Hank Greenberg, who clouted his 55th and 56th homers of the season yesterday, even though the Detroit Tigers were handed a double whipping by Cleveland. That pair of pokes put Hank three games up on the Bam's pace, and left him with nine more starts to reach the mark. But that's only one angle.

Remember that back in '27, the Babe really turned on the heat in the final month. That is what Hank is doing, although the pressure is on him all the way. Yesterday's two wallops marked a total of nine in 12 days for the big fellow, and gave him sole possession of a major league record—that for having hit two homers in a game ten times this season.

Bucky Walters was the big noise in the Pittsburgh firing. He held the Bucs to seven hits over the 12 innings, and won his own ball game, 5-4, with a run producing single.

Come From Behind.

In Philadelphia, Augie Galan's eight-inning homer gave the Cubs a 3-2 decision in the opener, and Rip Collins' two doubles and four runs batted in turned the trick, 7-6, in the nightcap. Each time the Cubs came from behind.

All this left the situation like this:

Club	W	L	Pct.	G.B.	P
Pittsburgh	83	58	.589	...	9
Chicago	82	61	.573	2	9
New York	77	64	.546	6	10
Cincinnati	77	64	.546	6	9

In the lone American League larrupping, the Indians took the Tigers 8-1 in the opener, with Bobby Feller tossing a six-hitter, fanning ten, and (surprise) walking one. Ken Keltner drove in four runs in the 6-5 nightcap victory after seven innings.

Illinois Meets First Strength Test Today

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A studier and more powerful University of Illinois eleven than Coach Bob Zupke has had in several years met its first test of the season today in the Ohio University Bobcats.

Zupke, beginning his 26th year at Illinois, planned to use two teams, but ever mindful of the upset Ohio handed the Illini in 1935, included eight letter winners in his starting eleven.

A crowd of 22,000 was expected at the kickoff, set for 2:30 P. M. (C. S. T.)

WATER MAKES NEW SACK STRONGER—NOT WEAKER

Tokyo.—(AP)—After four years of research, Dr. Junji Torii, a chemist, is said to have perfected a new type of heavy paper for use in sacks which resists water and sand better than hemp or leather.

It is reported the Japanese army may use the invention to replace jute in the making of sandbags. Jute is imported from India and restricted by trade control. The new paper tends to increase in strength when left in water for prolonged periods.

The first woman to hold the certified public accountant degree in Florida was Miss Mary Luella Richey, assistant professor of accounting at Florida State College.

THAT BOOMING IN U. S. IS NOT WAR
JUST GRID STRAT

New York, Sept. 24—(AP)—That bang resounding from coast to coast today wasn't an echo from Europe but merely the opening of the 1938 football season.

There wasn't any doubt about its starting off with a bang. A dozen or more teams that annually rank among the best in the country were paired off. No one could predict what might happen, but about 250,000 fans were expected to be on hand for the six top attractions to find out for themselves.

The day's biggest contests and probable crowds were:
Alabama - Southern California at Los Angeles (70,000); California - St. Mary's at Berkeley (60,000); Minnesota-Washington at Minneapolis (50,000); Pittsburgh-West Virginia at Pittsburgh (30,000); Illinois-Ohio University at Urbana (22,000); and Louisiana State - Mississippi at Baton Rouge (20,000).

While these took in every section, there were plenty of interesting clashes to care for the overflow throngs. The west coast, for example, had Washington State-Oregon; the southwest had Texas Christian-Centenary and Oklahoma A. and M.-Arkansas, and the midwest offered such "mid-season" games as Purdue-Detroit, Washington University (St. Louis) vs. Vanderbilt, and Kansas-Texas.

Friday night battles, sharing the Saturday hopla, produced some surprisingly close results. Moving westward from the Atlantic coast, Temple's Owls barely eked out a 6-0 decision over Albright, Bucknell whipped Furman, 25-6. Auburn beat Birmingham-Southern, 14-0, in the best southern game. The most surprising mid-western result saw Bradley Tech beat St. Louis University, 6-0. Low State invaded the Rocky Mountain district to whip Denver, 14-7. Forty thousand fans saw UCLA defeat Iowa, 23-3, at Los Angeles.

WONDER HOW THE PILGRIMS LANDED AT PLYMOUTH

Coast Guard Amazed They Didn't Land on Reef Granite Everywhere

Washington—To begin with, it always amazes us that the Pilgrims ever landed at Plymouth Rock without wrecking on a reef. It might be added that coast guard officers with a historical bent have studied the thing and it still mystifies them. They hate to get "soft and religious" but some of them will say there were so many chances for the Pilgrims to hit a reef that you have to lay it to something besides accident that they got through. They had no true maps and there wasn't a lighthouse along the whole coast.

These things down upon you as you cruise up and down the New England coast. The hazards are especially impressive at night. We had just a taste of it for a few days on a cruise aboard the coast guard cutter Chelan. Incidentally, the ship got its name from a lake in Washington, clear across the country from New England.

For years we have read about the "rock bound New England coast" but thought it was just a figure of speech, like rock-ribbed Republicans or dyed-in-the-wool Democrat. But the coast is rock bound. Solid granite reaches right out into the water and down many fathoms.

Granite Lurks Below
Some times that granite dives out of sight under the water, sneaks along for several hundred yards or a mile and then lifts a rocky elbow to a point a few feet below the surface, waiting to snag the life out of some deep-landed merchant ship.

All in all that famed shoreline presents a forbidding appearance from the sea. But on shore a person can understand why the Down-Easters love it, in spite of the stingy supply of soil.

Take Southport, Maine. It began about 1800 when the Marr family moved in. In 1812 a British frigate sailed up the Kennebec river to Southport and the Marr family had to hide in the brush while the British pulled away all the boats in the harbor. The house and the tree of the incident are still there. Only the Marrs are gone. The Marrs kept a lighthouse for 100 years until the last lighthouse Marr died three years ago. Others moved away.

You can strike solid granite with one blow of a pick almost any place at Southport, the soil is that thin. But every kid in the place can sail a boat as easily as youngsters here roller-skate. Fish and summer colonists provide the income. The 400-odd residents who live it out the year around find the winters cold but not too bad.

"What do you do in winter?" we asked one year-arounder.

"Nothing", he said. He explained by adding: "There's nothing to do."

One Winter Boarder
Large scale commercial fishing has gone to pot. Seven fishing schooners used to harbor there. There aren't any now, although local fishing still goes on. Barren of revenue as it seems, the place doesn't have a dollar of bonded debt and no WPA crew.

There is only one real pauper in the village. When cold weather comes they lock him up for the winter.

In addition to the boat trip along the coast we had a flight over that part between Cape Cod and Boston. That emphasizes an-

Brain Twizzlers

PROF. J. D. FLINT

Readin', writin' and 'rithmetic. Probably the first thing you learned in arithmetic was that two times two equals four. About the same time you probably became aware of the startling fact that two plus two equals four. Perhaps this seemed a strange phenomenon that two different processes could be applied to the same two numbers and the same answer be gotten. It is a rare occurrence in mathematics but there are two other numbers, slightly different to be sure, which will give the same answer if multiplied and added. Can you find them?

other disheartening feature about New England. There are too many factory chimneys without smoke. Our memory recalls only one pair of chimneys really belching smoke. They were at the naval torpedo station at Newport.

Byron News

Mrs. Nora Embick, a former Byron resident, but now of Bridgeport, Conn., is visiting friends in Byron.

The district board of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs met Thursday at Morrison. Mrs. F. B. Spoor and Mrs. H. R. Humm of Byron and Mrs. Mabel McCollier of Stillman Valley attended the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Snyder have moved to the Bolthouse residence. They were married Sept. 10.

Executive board of Byron Girl Scouts has been named with Mrs. Nellie Gambrel, chairman; Mrs. Marion Harmon, leader; the Misses Virginia Deetz and Audrey Spence; Leutenants; Misses Maud Holdorf, Ardis Lynn and Lucille McAffie, program committee. Leaders, Scouts and mothers will meet at the Community house Monday afternoon, Oct. 3. The Byron Girl Scouts are no longer affiliated with the Rockford council.

Quite a number of Byron folks attended Sauerkraut day at Forreston Thursday.

Paul Gambrel has left for East Lansing, Mich., where he will enroll at Michigan State University.

Three Strip Bandit Robbers Sentenced

Edwardsville, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Long prison sentences were handed out yesterday to three alleged members of southern Illinois "strip bandit" gang, charged with a series of robberies last July.

Circuit Judge D. H. Mudge sentenced William Craycraft, 27, and Ralph Sanders, 39, both of Venice, Ill., to one year to life. Both pleaded guilty to charges of armed robbery of couples they forced to disrobe to foil pursuit.

Livio Cometto, 30, of Enid, Ill., was given a one-to-10-year sentence for larceny of an automobile.

Six other alleged members of the highway robbery gang, including two women, have pleaded innocent to similar charges. They are Myrtle Walker, Litchfield, Ill.; Rose Sanders, Venice; Virgil Scott, Enid; William Wideman, Granite City; Russell Edwards, and Edgar Edwards, both of Granite City.

AMERICANS TOLD TO ABANDON WAR THREATENED AREA

Preparations Made to Evacuate Them From Prague, Budapest

Washington, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A request that Americans leave Czechoslovakia and a quickened pace in the treasury's preparations to meet international financial problems which might ensue from a European war evidenced today the administration's apprehension over the latest turn in the German-Czech crisis.

The state department said Wilbur J. Carr, minister at Prague, had advised Americans to get out of Czechoslovakia immediately because "conditions were such that at any time it might become impossible for them to leave."

Department records list 5,190 Americans as residents in Czechoslovakia.

Among treasury developments were these:

Treasury Developments.

1. It deposited $90,000,000 of gold certificates in three federal reserve banks, marking the first time since April that any of its huge gold accumulation had been converted into cash. This served to increase the cash balance the treasury will have available in the event a war demoralizes money markets temporarily.

2. Jacob Viner, University of Chicago economist who resigned recently as a treasury aide, was recalled to advise on financial aspects of the European situation.

3. Archie Lochhead, manager of the treasury's stabilization fund, and Paul Leroy-Beaulieu, financial attache of the French embassy, conferred for an hour. Lochhead directs this country's actions under its 1936 agreement to cooperate with France, Great Britain, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland in stabilizing world currencies.

4. Today's daily treasury statement showed an additional $24,500,000 worth of gold converted into cash.

TO EVACUATE HUNGARY.

Budapest, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The American legation in Budapest had a train ready today to evacuate United States citizens in an emergency.

The British legation made similar preparations.

The American train was ready to leave immediately for the coast. (Trieste, Italy, on the Adriatic Sea is the nearest port.)

The legation advised all American citizens in Hungary to leave immediately if they could do so. The Hungarian-Czechoslovak border is closed. Czechoslovak and Hungary rushed military preparations in the frontier area.

It became certain at noon that there was no communication with Czechoslovakia. The frontier, even the Hungarian side, was sealed hermetically.

Farmers living near the frontier were barred from working in their fields.

Hungarians were told that no letters or telegrams could be sent to Czechoslovakia for the moment. Highway and telephone communication was discontinued earlier today.

The Czechoslovak army moved strong reinforcements into position at the border. Reports reaching Budapest said that at sunrise the entire frontier appeared to be a solid wall of barbed wire, steel and concrete.

The foreign office, in a statement issued 12 hours after Czechoslovakia mobilized her army, declared:

"The Hungarian government has not been frightened by Czechoslovak mobilization and will keep up its minority demands on Czechoslovakia."

More than 22,000 women were received into the Salvation Army's 94 maternity homes and hospitals in the last year.

FREE PRESS IS GUARD AGAINST "ONE MAN RULE"

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Frank Gannett, publisher of Gannett newspapers, said today that "only a free press" stands between the American citizenship and "one-man rule."

Gannett replied, in a speech prepared for radio delivery, to attacks by Senator Minton (D-Ind) in what he termed Minton's "efforts to gag the press."

"It was the support of the press of America that brought to a successful conclusion the fight against the proposal to pack the Supreme Court," Gannett declared, adding that the press also halted the government reorganization bill and the president's congressional "purge."

"Naturally," he said, "when the newspapers wage successfully battles of that sort, they arouse the animosity of those who have been foiled in carrying out their plans."

Saying that Senator Minton quoted an unidentified editor to the effect that The Associated Press, of which Gannett is a director, is a monopoly, the Rochester publisher asserted, "nothing could be further from the truth."

He explained that The Associated Press is a cooperative organization of nearly 1,400 member newspapers, each of whom has a vote in the selection of the board of directors.

"The board of directors," he said, "represents newspapers large and small, of all kinds of political faith, independent, Democratic, Republican. These directors would be quick to see any bias or unfairness in a news report."

Second Trial Over Shanahan's Estate

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The way for a second trial over the $850,000 estate of David E. Shanahan, veteran Illinois legislator, apparently was clear today.

The Misses Margaret and Mary Flynn, sister cousins of Shanahan, seek to invalidate his will, which left the entire estate to his death-bed bride, Mrs. Helen Troesch Shanahan.

Judge George Bristow yesterday overruled a defense motion to take the case out of the jurisdiction of the Circuit court. Mrs. Shanahan's attorney contended the case was originally in the jurisdiction of the probate court.

The first Circuit court trial ended with the jury deadlocked. A date for a second trial has not been set.

In a will made prior to his death-bed marriage, Shanahan had left 80 per cent of his estate to the Flynn Sisters.

Tulane university experiments show that Louisiana fruits and vegetables contain an unusually large amount of iodine, which serves to prevent goiter.

ITALIANS TOLD TO BE READY TO BATTLE BY DUCE

He Declares Germany and Italy Will Stand as "Single Bloc"

Padua, Italy, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini revealed today Germany had served a six-day ultimatum on Czechoslovakia, expiring Oct. 1.

Mussolini in a speech here did not detail terms of the German demand. Presumably they were for the outright surrender of Sudeten territory.

The Duce cautioned his fascist followers to be ready for war.

It would be a "very grave error," he said, if the "patient attitude of Germany should be interpreted falsely," indicating Hitler could not be expected to take flight.

Mussolini declared Berlin had manifested "supreme moderation."

He said "Germany has sent requests to Prague and has given until October 1 for a reply. There are, therefore, exactly six days for the Prague government to resume again a way of sanity, for it would be truly absurd and even criminal that Europe's millions should be hurled against one another, simply to maintain the feudal lordship of Benes' president of Czechoslovakia."

"Fear Responsibility."

"We know the democratic regimes fear responsibility because each is trying to unload it on the opposition party or on his neighbor," the Italian Duce declared.

"In the so-called totalitarian regime this shifting of responsibility is impossible. The problem now placed before the consciences of the peoples must be settled in integral and definitive matter."

"There is time for this solution," Mussolini continued, "and if the conflict must nevertheless break out there is a possibility of localizing it."

"But it happens in these days that more or less influential parties and tendencies in western countries contend that this is the opportune moment to take a stand and settle accounts with the totalitarian states."

"In this case these parties and tendencies will find themselves confronted by two countries but the two countries which will form a single bloc."

Recent amendments to the Federal duck hunting regulations make allowances for "mistaken identity" in shooting prohibited species like redheads, canvasbacks, buffleheads and ruddy ducks.

For economy in spices and seasonings, buy a box of mixed whole pickling spices and pick out the different kinds, such as bay leaf, peppercorns and whole cloves to use separately.

25 YEARS AGO

Grover Tracey, known to the many fans as "Rip Weiner" first baseman of the champion Oshkosh team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, came home today to spend the winter.

Captain Keegan and his 45 convicts from Camp Hope, north of Grand Detour, fought a fire at the Charles W. Johnson farm last evening, which resulted in the loss of many thousands dollars worth of hay, cattle, etc.

10 YEARS AGO

Dr. Ernest C. Lumsden, district superintendent of the Joliet-Dixon district of the Methodist church, was instantly killed last evening near Hinckley when his car was struck by a fast Burlington passenger train.

The E. N. Howell store on Galena avenue was entered and robbed during the night.

State's Attorney Mark C. Keller's report to the circuit court set a new record for fines collected by his office, showing a total of $6,732.00 in fines and fees collected from April until September.

Rancher-Slayer of Sheriff Must Die

Ryegate, Mont., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Lee Simpson, 50, Golden Valley rancher who marked 16 people for death because, he told officers, they were trying to "steal" his extensive ranch property, will be sentenced to death Tuesday for slaying Deputy Sheriff Arthur Burford.

A district court jury that heard Simpson's insanity defense found him guilty last night and fixed the death penalty.

Burford was slain April 14 while investigating the disappearance of Gerald and Robert McDonald, youthful ranch employees. Arrested, Simpson told officers where to find the McDonalds' bodies.

There were only two cases of murder or manslaughter reported in Kansas' two largest cities in April, May and June this year. One case was in Kansas City and the other in Wichita.

CLAIM HITLER'S NOTE WAS MOST "CONCILIATORY"

Associated Press Told Demands Were Moderate in All Ways

(Copyright, 1938, by The Associated Presses)

Berlin, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A man who saw a copy of Adolf Hitler's memorandum to Prime Minister Chamberlain said today it was most conciliatory in tone and gave a basis for peaceful solution. This informant said Hitler in no way included Polish and Hungarian demands on Czechoslovakia in the memorandum, given to Chamberlain at Godesberg as Germany's final station on the Czechoslovak question.

In fact, the informant stated, these demands were not discussed by Chamberlain and Hitler at the meeting.

The informant said the chief credit for getting Hitler to moderate his demands belonged to Ernst von Weizsaecker, state secretary for foreign affairs.

Eight days, the informant said, are envisaged for peaceful handing over of the Sudeten territory to Germany.

Pledged on Oath

The informant said he was pledged on oath not to give this correspondent direct quotations from the text of the memorandum.

Hitler's demands, he said, are even less than those made at the meeting of Hitler and Chamberlain at Berchtesgaden September 15.

Meanwhile, a semi-official press release observed that Hitler, in the memorandum, once more put Germany's demands in the most precise terms possible and in such a manner that it was apparent Germany did everything possible to bring about a peaceful solution.

Hitler's memorandum, the press release continued, contained suggestions for carrying out what already has been conceded Germany by Britain and France and what was accepted by the Czechoslovak government of Milan Hodza before its resignation.

End of Daylight Saving Time Due at 2 a.m.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Daylight saving time will end at 2 A. M. tomorrow and residents of Chicago and other cities observing it will catch up with that hour of sleep lost in the spring when clocks were set an hour ahead.

The time change will affect suburban trains, but those operating on regular long runs will continue on standard time. Schedules will be changed on some trains serving eastern territory.

TOO SHOCKED FOR WORDS

A Letter from Her Mother
My dear Joannette
News of your further misconduct forces me to write this letter
As a girl you were sweet and lovable. Then for two years as Queen of France, you lived with dignity.
But now, eye witnesses tell me, you are a flirtatious painted doll—filling your nights with lurid escapades—and shocking all France with your shameful adventures. Why? What has happened?
